

August 2007 issue

Re-Launched Black Point Inn Greeting Guests in Scarborough, Maine

The historic Black Point Inn in southern coastal Maine has opened its doors under new management, following extensive renovations.

Tim Porta, Managing Partner of True North Hospitality BPI, LLC, announced that the Inn, having undergone major structural improvements, has quickly earned enthusiastic feedback from visiting guests this summer.

Additionally, under the skilled guidance of newly recruited, award-winning Executive Chef Cheryl Lewis, the Inn already is pleasing crowds at its two new restaurants, The Point and the more casual Chart Room.

Visit blackpointinn.com.

– Jill Epstein
Publisher/Editor
Where to Eat: Boston